BED BUG K-9 INSEPTION

Allied has the largest K-9 Bed Bug Detection Division in the Midwest. Our K-9 Inspection Division has inspected over 25,000 residences and over 1,500,000 square feet of commercial office space per year.

Allied employs an in-house Master Dog Trainer. He is able to train drug sniffing, bomb sniffing, and personal protection dogs in addition to bed bug dogs. Not only are K-9 inspections far more accurate, they are much faster than human inspections. K-9 inspection dogs can detect bed bugs in cracks, crevices, behind walls, and many other areas that humans simply cannot search. Early detection can dramatically lower the cost of eliminating a bed bug infestation. High accuracy, speed, and the ability to search difficult areas make scent detecting canines the most valuable tool in the fight against bed bugs.

BED BUG PREPARATION

Preparation is a vital part of a successful bed bug treatment. Although it is possible for the residents/homeowners to perform these services, to ensure the contents are treated thoroughly and correctly, Allied strongly recommends utilizing its preparation division to perform this work. Proper preparation is often an overwhelming task best left for Allied's professionals.
